

Grace Wales Bonner, an international fashion genius and my collaborator, came in from London to curate a show for the Museum of Modern Art. Our art critic, Molly Guillermo, interviewed her...Our lineup of heavy hitters includes Jan Garden Castro, Hoodoo leader Arthur Rickydoc Flowers, E. Ethelbert Miller, Tony Wallin-Sato, and regulars Dr. Michael LeNoir, Julia Wright, daughter of The Great One, our regular Yuri Kageyama is here, the diminutive poet who challenged the Japanese Government and The Nuclear Power industry and for her efforts won many international awards for her masterpiece, "News From Fukushima" directed by Carla Blank. We have Ron Jacobs, who writes about how Christopher Rufo, backed by billionaires and a congresswoman who is into "Replacement," forced the Black president of Harvard out of office. In the 19th Century, the old Teutonics who wanted to keep America racially pure saw Italians as poisoning Aryan blood. The new Teutonic has Italian heritage. The curriculum has brainwashed him to believe that white men founded classical civilization. Algebra as well?... Sidney Clifton sent us some photos of the dedication of a monument to the memory of her mother and my pal, Lucille Clifton.
